Memorial Day Ceremony

On May 25, 1984, Butler Senior High School held their fifth annual Memorial Day Ceremony. The Memorial, which is located at the north end of the Football Stadium, is dedicated to the thirteen men and women who died in the service of their country. These thirteen young individuals were all graduates of Butler High School. The Keynote Speaker this year was Major George William Flinn from the United States Marine Corps. The message of his speech was that the youth of America should not sit back, but rather get involved with what is going on around them. Amy Heidenreich, the Student Speaker, recited a speech about the Constitution and how we all must keep it strong and lasting. The Band and Choir performed "Battle Hymn of the Republic", "America the Beautiful", and "God Bless America".

The Benediction

Commencement

On May 31, 1984 parents, family, friends, and the faculty gathered at the U.D. Arena for the commencement of the Class of 1984. Lead by Mr. Sferro and Mr. Coleman, the 342 graduates filed into the arena to the processional "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the Butler Band, under the direction of Mr. Don Donnett. Valedictorian, Deron Upton asked in his address what the greatest factor the class of 84 would face. He felt it would be competition and asked if the members of the class would be ready for it. He felt because of the dedication and preparation many of the class had that they would be prepared for their future. Jeff Lloyd, Salutatorian, reminded the class of what it had been through, reminded them of the little memories from the first day until the present. By reminding the class of where it had been, he made them aware of where they were. He challenged them to be self directive in where they were going. The class graduated with caps flying, bubbles floating, mice scampering, tears falling, arms hugging, and most of all, a sense of satisfaction embedded in the smiles of the graduates.

Mock Wedding

And Reception

The Lifestyles class at Butler had their annual mock wedding. Barbara Spence and Brian Akers were hypothetically wed. The reason for this hypothetical wedding was to give the Lifestyles class at Butler High a chance to be involved in a wedding. By having this wedding the students could fully understand what is really involved in the performance of a wedding. Officiating the wedding was Mr. Kuhns. After the wedding, the class also had a reception in the Home Ec. room.

Anticipation.

Here comes the bride.

Horatio Alger Career Day

For the second time in three years, the students at Butler were fortunate to have access to great Americans who had amazing success stories. This came about through the courtesy of the Horatio Alger Awards Committee, located in New York. Mr. David Thomas, founder of Wendy's International; Mr. Herbert J. Stiefel, chief Executive Officer of HBM Stiefel Inc. and Arthur E. Imperatore, President of A-P-A Transport Corp. were our Keynote speakers on our Horatio Alger Career Day. They gave Butler students a glimpse of what their futures could be and installed in all of us a great hope and a great deal of confidence in America's future.

In addition, 46 business people and local professions talked with our students in small group sessions on careers that Butler students signed up for. All in all, it was an interesting and profitable day for all!

Shakespeare Adds Culture

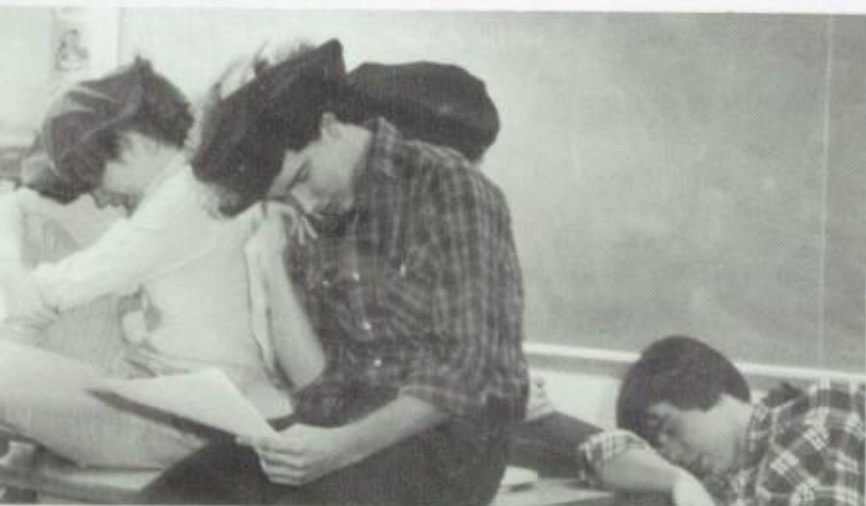

During the month of February, The Shakespeare, Advanced Drama, and Senior and Junior Advanced Placement English Classes were visited by a Shakespearean actor, Frank Lucas, and actress, Corrine Dorer, from the Great Lakes Shakespearean Company. Frank and Corrine led the students through parts of the Taming of the Shrew in contemporary English, making the play easier to understand. From there the Elizabethan drama was more fully understood and appreciated. They also led the groups in improvisations, situations where the audience gives the actors the subject, character, and situation to act out. The need for physical and mental conditioning was demonstrated continually. As a learning experience sponsored by the Ohio Arts Council, Butler students profited from this experience by the learning and the love.

Hi! I'm William Shakespeare.

Spring Play

The play selections for the 1983-84 school year were excellent. The fall drama production was Kaufman and Hart's Pulitzer-Prize winning comedy "You Can't Take It With You." The members of the cast were Jerry Schwab, Laura Stuckey, Matt Jordan, Jean Weiffenbach, Deena Hardin, Scott Summitt, Mike Weaver, Ben Dykes, Ted Zavakos, Lisa Marshment, Brian Rude, Johnathan Jones, Amy Heidenreich, Leonard Burridge, Gwen Toney, Gary Seale, David Hellard, and Jeff Theis. The members of the crew were Cindy Stammen, Julie Doyle, Darcy Thomas, and Tina Brumbaugh as assistant directors for Mr. Kuhns. Make-up and hair were done by Linda Shoemaker, Kim Beimly, Kim Carroll, Diana Upton, Dana Harper, Laurie Tea, Nan Hendrix, and Michelle Montgomery. The costumes were handled by Christie McCoy, Darcy Thomas, Sherry Alig, and Jenni Sigler. The sets for the play were constructed by Teresa Daniel, Tammy Harness, Scott Milligan, Eric Hulsman, Dawn Roth, Cathy Ratcliff, Mike Behnken, and Schwalm. April Crenshaw was in charge of program design. The spring drama production was William Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew," and it proved to be the most challenging play that the Drama Club has performed. Interest in the play started when students were exposed to the Shakespearean actors that visited us in February. When Drama Club members decided to do the play, they were aware of the challenge and knew they had their hands full. The cast included Amy Heidenreich, Ben Dykes, Mike Weaver, Scott Summitt, Jean Weiffenbach, Jerry Schwab, David Hellard, Kevin Klawon, Leonard Burridge, Andy Musick, Paul Roberts, Linda Shoemaker, Abby Klips, Darcy Thomas, Apryl Crenshaw, and Laura Stucky. Mr. Kuhns's assistant directors were Abby Klips and Linda Shoemaker. Mrs. Marianne Shoemaker was responsible for the costumes.

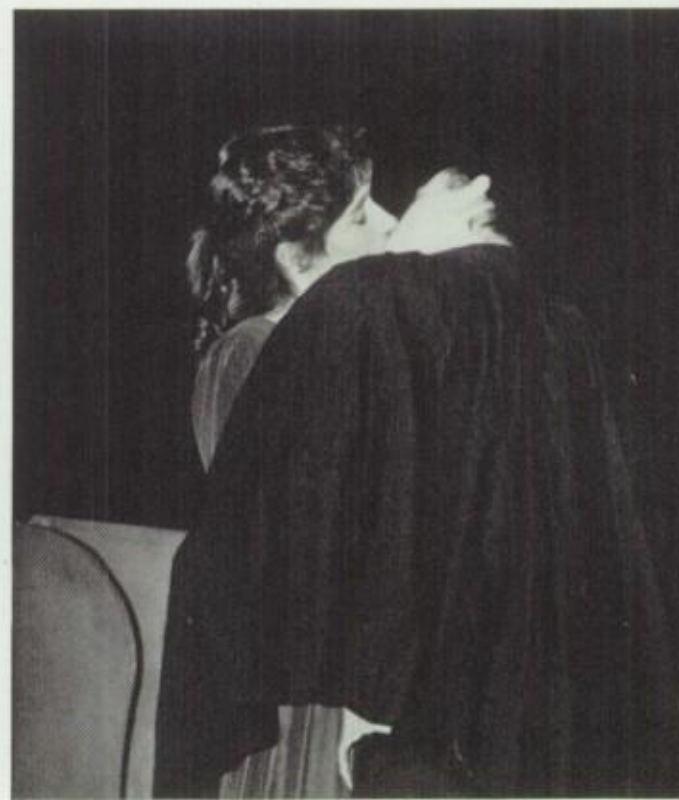

"God give him joy!"

"Is she the Shrew?"

"I'm dog-weary."

"This is the way to kill a wife with kindness"

"Is this the Elizabethan Playhouse?"

"I am a Gentleman of Verona!"

"Where be these knaves?"

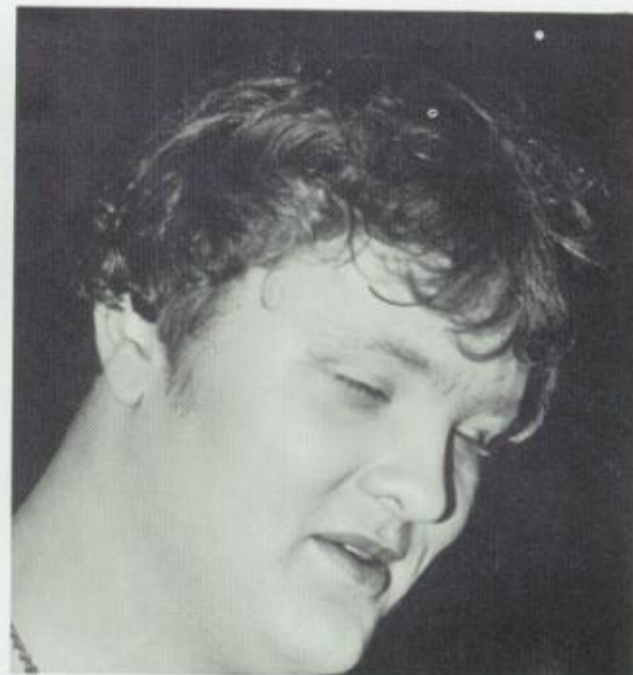

"It is time for us to vent our love."

"He kills her in her own humor."

"Tush! Tush! Fear boy with bugs!"

"I never yet beheld that special face."

"Her silence flouts me, and I'll be re-gged."

"Of all thy suitors, here I charge thee, tell."

"To make a bondmaid and a slave of me?"

"Go fetch then, hither!"

"Bring me the shrew!"

"For shame, thou holding of a devilish spirit."

"Well I know my duty to my el-

"Me thinks he looks as though he were in love."

"Back with you! Down boy!"

LEDEX INC., VANDALIA, OHIO

Ledex began with the successful introduction of the rotary solenoid in the early 1940's, then grew into a diversified company with highly specialized skills in the fields of actuating and switching.

Today, besides being a major supplier of rotary and linear solenoids, Ledex is also a prominent producer of stepping motors, manual and powered switches, and electronic interface components. For many applications, electromechanical and solid state technologies are often combined to provide subassemblies or plug-in solutions to actuating or switching problems.

The main Ledex manufacturing facility is a 100,000 square foot structure in Vandalia. Additional locations are in Piqua and Wilmington, Ohio. Ledex also specializes in telecommunications components and systems. Worldwide distribution of Ledex and Bramco products is handled by the Ledex Export Corporation and an international network of affiliates and representatives.
